

Climate Change Visualized

Mara Menahan
Montana Audubon

QuickTime™ and a decompressor
are needed to see this picture.

HomeJoin & SupportAbout UsBirds & ScienceIssues & ActionEducation CenterBirdwatching

Our Issues

Global WarmingEnergyStreams & WetlandsSagebrushGrasslandsOther Hot Issues

Take Action

MT LegislatureResources

MONTANA BIRDS IN A CHANGING CLIMATE

Blending art and science to explain the impacts of a warming climate.

Click on the "bird hotspots" on the map to learn more about current and expected climate driven changes to the birds in our alpine, forest, and sagebrush habitats. You'll be impressed!

Thanks to University of Montana students Mara Menahan and Audra Diemer for creating the art and summarizing the science.

ALPINE

